5 are to—

6 (A) maintain United States leadership in 7 international trade liberalization and expansion
8 efforts;

9 (B) reinvigorate the ability of the United 10 States economy to compete in international 11 markets and to respond flexibly to changes in 12 international competition; and

13 (C) expand United States participation in 14 international trade through aggressive pro-
15 motion and marketing of American products
16 and services;

1 (2) the economy of the United States is so inex-
2 tricably linked with the international economic sys-
3 tem that all domestic economic sectors are influ-
4 enced by the dynamics of global trade and 5 investment;

6 (3) the expansion of United States participation
7 in international trade will improve the general wel-
8 fare of the people of the United States by increasing
9 demand for American products and services, creat-
10 ing jobs, and increasing the gross national product;

11 (4) business, labor, and all levels of government
12 must place the highest priority on developing meth-
13 ods and policies to achieve the goals described in 14 paragraph (1), and the achievement of such goals is 15 dependent on a marked improvement in the capabil-
16 ity of United States businesses to compete in foreign 17 markets;

18 (5) the Federal Government can enhance the 19 capability of United States businesses to compete in 20 foreign markets by acting to—

21 (A) reduce political and economic barriers
22 to sales and investments by such businesses;

23 (B) promote American goods and services
24 in foreign countries;

1 (C) encourage aggressive participation by
2 the private sector in the international market-
3 place; and

4 (D) develop policies to enhance productiv-
5 ity and long-term growth;

6 (6) effective and efficient Government action to 6 the employment of a corps of personnel consisting of 7 individuals who, like the personnel of the govern-

8 ments of United States trading partners, are highly 9 experienced and educated in international trade op-
10 erations and negotiations;

11 (9) the present organizational structure of Gov-
12 ernment administration of international trade activi-
13 ties is so diffuse that inconsistent and contradictory
14 policies and actions result;

15 (10) such inconsistent and contradictory poli-
16 cies and actions inhibit domestic trade interests, cre-
17 ate trade opportunities for our international com-
18 petitors, and discourage experienced Government

4 edge concerning the competitive position of Amer-
5 ican industries and foreign industries greatly ham-
6 pers or delays the ability of the United States to for-7 mulate responsible trade policies and policies that 8 affect the international competitiveness of domestic
