

103^D CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

S. J. RES. 76

Concerning the dedication of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

MARCH 31 (legislative day, MARCH 3), 1993

Mr. LAUTENBERG (for himself, Mr. PELL, Mr. METZENBAUM, and Mr. MURKOWSKI) introduced the following joint resolution; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary

JOINT RESOLUTION

Concerning the dedication of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum.

Whereas, in 1980, the Congress of the United States established the United States Holocaust Memorial Council (Public Law 96-388, dated October 7, 1980) by unanimous vote and mandated it with the creation of a permanent living memorial museum to the victims of the Holocaust;

Whereas, through the great generosity and unstinting efforts of thousands of individuals from all walks of life, the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum has now been built on Federal land with private contributions and will be officially dedicated on April 22, 1993;

Whereas this institution will underscore the ideals of human rights and individual liberty this Nation was founded upon, as expressed by President George Washington in 1790, when he declared that the United States had created “a government which to bigotry gives no sanction, to persecution no assistance”;

Whereas four administrations and every Congress since 1980, and especially Members of Congress and individuals who have served on the Council and officials of the United States Departments of State, the Interior, and Education, have joined with the American public in bringing this institution to life; and

Whereas this museum signifies national dedication to remembering the Holocaust and will serve as the Nation’s leading educational facility to teach current and future generations of Americans about this tragic period of human history and its implications for our lives and the choices we make as individuals and societies against crimes based on hate and prejudice regarding race, religion, and sexual preference: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives
 2 of the United States of America in Congress assembled,
 3 That the One Hundred Third Congress officially com-
 4 memorates the opening and recognizes the historic impor-
 5 tance of this unique institution as it takes its place among 6 the other great memorials and museums in our Nation’s 7 Capital that honor the democratic precepts this Nation is 8 based upon; and be it further

9 Resolved, That Congress encourages all citizens of the 10 United States, and all who come to Washington, District 11 of Columbia, to visit the Museum and avail themselves of

1 the opportunities presented within its walls to learn about 2 the past and to contemplate the moral responsibilities of 3 citizenship; and be it further

4 Resolved, That, in remembrance of those who per-5 ished in the Holocaust; in tribute to the survivors who 6 came to the United States to build a new life, and who,
7 with their families, have contributed so much to the fabric
8 of our diverse society; in recognition of heroic American 9 soldiers who liberated prisoners of Nazi camps; in recogni-10 tion of the anonymous bravery of rescuers from many 11 lands who had the courage to care and placed their own 12 lives in peril to help others in need; and in hope that 13 Americans will learn from this museum the need to remain 14 vigilant against bigotry and oppression; we welcome the 15 United States Holocaust Memorial Museum to the center
16 of our American heritage and state now, in recognition
17 of the Museum's motto, that for the dead and the living
18 and those yet to be born, we do bear witness.

○