

W. EDWARDS DEMING FEDERAL BUILDING

JULY 31, 1997.—Referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed

Mr. SHUSTER, from the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, submitted the following

REPORT

[To accompany H.R. 962]

[Including cost estimate of the Congressional Budget Office]

The Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, to whom was referred the bill (H.R. 962) to redesignate a Federal building in Suitland, Maryland, as the “W. Edwards Deming Federal Building”, having considered the same, report favorably thereon without amendment and recommend that the bill do pass.

Dr. William Edwards Deming was a renowned expert on business management. He was born in Powell, Wyoming, attended local schools and received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Wyoming, his Master of Science degree from the University of Colorado and his Doctorate from Yale University.

In 1927, Dr. Deming began his public service career with the Department of Agriculture as a physicist, and then moved on to the Bureau of Census to become the Mathematical Advisor to the Chief of the Population Division.

In 1945, Dr. Deming began a second distinguished career as a statistics and management consultant to several foreign governments, including Austria, France, Germany, India, Turkey and most notably, Japan.

Dr. Deming’s innovative theories were based on the premise that most product defects resulted from management shortcomings rather than careless workers. He further posited that “inspection after the fact” was an inferior form of quality control, and focused on improving design processes which would produce better quality. He argued that enlisting the efforts of willing workers to do things correctly the first time, coupled with providing them the proper tools, were the key to improving product quality.—

It is a fitting tribute to name this facility in honor of Dr. Deming.

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, July 25, 1997.

Hon. BUD SHUSTER,
Chairman, Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has reviewed the following bills, which were ordered reported by the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on July 23, 1997. This cost estimate supersedes the estimate CBO prepared on July 24, 1997, and reflects a subsequent technical amendment provided by the Committee changing the bill title of H.R. 1479.

Enacting these bills would have no significant impact on the federal budget. The bills would not affect direct spending or receipts; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply. The bills contain no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments. The bills reviewed are:

H.R. 29, a bill to designate the federal building located at 290 Broadway in New York, New York, as the "Ronald H. Brown Federal Building;"

H.R. 595, a bill to designate the federal building and United States courthouse located at 475 Mulberry Street in Macon, Georgia, as the "William Augustus Bootle Federal Building and United States Courthouse;"

H.R. 613, a bill to designate the federal building located at 61 Forsyth Street, SW, in Atlanta, Georgia, as the "Sam Nunn Atlanta Federal Center;"

H.R. 962, a bill to redesignate a federal building in Suitland, Maryland, as the "W. Edwards Deming Federal Building;"

H.R. 994, a bill to designate the United States border station located in Pharr, Texas, as the "Kika de la Garza United States Border Station;"

H.R. 1479, a bill to designate the federal building and United States courthouse located at 300 Northeast First Avenue in Miami, Florida, as the "David W. Dyer Federal Building and United States Courthouse;"

H.R. 1484, a bill to redesignate the United States courthouse located at 100 Franklin Street in Dublin, Georgia, as the "J. Roy Rowland United States Courthouse;"

H.R. 1502, a bill to designate the United States courthouse located at 301 West Main Street in Benton, Illinois, as the "James L. Foreman United States Courthouse;" and
