Moving In

The First Lady. Good morning!

The President. Good morning, everybody.

Q. So are you now officially New Yorkers?

The President. We’re here. Let me say to start that we’re delighted to be here. We like this house very much, and we, at least, have put up all the boxes we brought up here so far. This is the first home we have had since January of 1983, 17 years ago, when we moved back into the Governor’s Mansion in Little Rock. So it’s exciting. We’re seeing some things we haven’t seen since we moved to the White House and some things we haven’t seen in 17 years.

We’ve got a table in there that we bought shortly after we got married, in 1975, that we haven’t used in a long time. So we’ve had a lot of fun, and I’ve enjoyed it very much.

The First Lady. We’re glad to have you here this morning because this is a lot of excitement and hard work for us, but we’re so pleased that we are finally here and moved in and looking forward to many, many happy days here in the days and months ahead.

The President. We also want to thank our neighbors who have been long-suffering with all the attention—

The First Lady. Right.

The President.—that the house has received.

The First Lady. And all of the officials here in Chappaqua and New Castle and Westchester County, who have been so helpful and cooperative with the Secret Service and the other people who are a part of the President’s official duties.

President’s Voter’s Registration

Q. Mr. President, will you be shifting your voter registration to New York, so you can vote for a certain Senate candidate?

The President. Yes, I’ve got a particular interest in the election up here next year, so I want to make sure my vote counts. I expect to vote in the election in New York.
